DEMOCRAT ERIC JOHNSON, CANDIDATE FOR TEXAS HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, DISTRICT 100, RAISES OVER $60,000 FOR RUN

DALLAS, TX – First time political candidate and Dallas attorney Eric Johnson, who filed papers to begin raising money to run for the Texas House of Representatives from House District 100 on June 5, 2009, announced this morning that his campaign received nearly $65,000 in contributions between June 5, 2009 and June 30, 2009. Johnson received over $60,000 in monetary contributions from over 300 individuals and nearly $5,000 in in-kind contributions. Over 70% of the contributors to Johnson’s campaign were individuals who gave $100 or less.

“I am humbled by the level of support we received from our friends and family during the last three weeks of June,” said Johnson. “I am truly blessed to have such strong support, especially in the faith and non-profit communities in which I have worked for years, and also in the business and legal communities. I look forward to reaching out beyond my friends and family for support in the months to come.”

Johnson attributes early enthusiasm for his campaign to his strong record of community service in House District 100.

“I think a lot of people genuinely appreciate the fact that I have been working for years on issues that are important to the residents of House District 100,” said Johnson. “Because I have actually served as a mentor at Lincoln High School in South Dallas and as a volunteer at C.F. Carr Elementary School and Amelia Earhart Learning Center in West Dallas, and because I have worked with several organizations that focus on our children and senior citizens such as the Martin Luther King, Jr. Community Center and the Boys & Girls Clubs of Greater Dallas, people know that I am serious about making House District 100 a better place to live, learn, work, and retire.”
